GONE TO HER REWARD

Mrs. Mary J. McClain, After a Long Illness, Crosses to the Other Side.

INTERMENT IN CITY CEMETERY.

The death of the subject of this writing, which occurred at 2 o'clock last Wednesday afternoon, was not a surprise to the residents of Columbia, as her critical condition for several days was known to every body in the community.

There was never a more patient sufferer, nor one who expressed more gratitude to friends, who gathered about her bedside day in and day out for many weeks.

She had no fear of death, and as gentle as she had lived, she calmly and resignedly met her God. She had a most pleasing disposition, making dark pictures look bright, when trouble came. She trusted in God whom she served, and while she disliked the ways of the ungodly, she had only kind words of admonition when called upon to give an expression. She was a consecrated woman, believing that her Master did every thing for the best. She was the idol of an only child, a daughter, Mrs. J. W. Coy, who will greatly miss the familiar form and the voice that gave comfort and joy to the household. May God pour the balm of Gilead into the aching hearts of those who have lost a wise counsellor and a loving and faithful mother.

The deceased was a daughter of Capt. James and Cynthia Ann Murrell, and was born on the farm where Porter Bargar now lives. Her parents removed to Columbia when she was about one year old. Here she was reared, and in 1858 she was married to Mr. John W. McClain, who died many years ago.

When quite a young woman she made a profession of her faith in Christ, united with the Methodist Church and lived a true Christian life until the final dissolution, being 73 years, three months and eleven days old when death came.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist church Thursday afternoon, conducted by her pastor, Rev. J. S. Chandler, who paid a beautiful tribute to her life and character. Services over the remains were borne to the city cemetery, and there deposited to await the resurrection morn.

Besides the daughter, the deceased is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. C. Gilmer, Honey Grove, Texas.

The flowers were beautiful.

Card of Thanks.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Coy desire to return their heartfelt thanks to all their neighbors, who manifested so much kindness during the illness of Mrs. McClain, Mrs. Coy's mother. They did not seem to tire, one or more being constantly at the bedside, tenderly nursing, praying that the one who was so sorely afflicted might be restored to health. They are glad that they live among such steadfast friends, neighbors who will ever be kindly and gratefully remembered.

A Splendid Report.

The Tabernacle Sunday School reports that on last Sunday 150 attended the school, 104 regular attendants, 21 new members and $6.53 offerings. Be it known that Tabernacle church is near Eunice, a country congregation that is awake to the importance and worth of the Sunday School. It is doubtless the strongest and most active Sunday School in the county, outside of Columbia. We congratulate it on its splendid report and the great work it is doing.

Two Ladies Greatly Frightened.

Last Thursday night, just after the lights were turned off, Mr. W. C. Murrell's residence was entered by either a white man or a negro, the color of the person being in doubt. The front entrance to the residence is a double door, and it was not locked. Mrs. Tennie Smith and Miss Cora Smith were occupying a room in the second story. A steady rain was falling, and one of the ladies got up and let the sash of a window down. Immediately thereafter she heard the door to the room open, and she asked, "Who is that?" and at the same time the intruder struck a match and held it up. The women screamed. Mr. Murrell and his wife were sleeping in a room below, and the former hurried to the rescue, but before reaching the ladies' apartment, the intruder had escaped down the steps. The two women were so badly frightened that a physician had to be called. One of the ladies thinks it was a negro, the other is not positive as to color. From the action of the intruder it looks like it was a person who was bewildered, as it does not look reasonable that a man who was up to mischief would light a match and hold it up when the question came "Who is that?" Yet, there are some suspicions that it was the act of an evil doer. Whether a mistake or not the intrusion should be a warning, and every housekeeper should keep his revolver where he could put his hand on it.

Land Sale.

I will on Monday June 7, 1915, at about the hour of one o'clock p. m., it being the first day of a regular term of the Adair County Court, at the courthouse door in Columbia, Adair County, Kentucky, offer for sale and sell to the highest and best bidder on a credit of six months with 6 per cent, per annum interest from date of sale bond with approved security required of the purchaser the one-fifth undivided interest of C. C. Roe, Jr. Said interest was inherited from his father, E. F. Roe, deceased, subject to the life interest of Mrs. E. F. Roe, to satisfy Execution No. 2004 issued from the office of the clerk of the Adair Circuit Court, on May 8, 1915, to satisfy debt of $38.26 with interest from Oct. 12, 1914 and $6.06 costs, and other costs amounting to $17.69, in favor of J. H. Judd assignee against said C. C. Roe Jr. One tract of land and appurtenances thereto belonging, lying on the waters of Harrodsfork of Crocus creek, in Adair county Kentucky, containing 86 acres more or less, and bounded and described as follows, viz: Beginning at a poplar and chestnut thence N 81 E 80 poles to a chestnut corner to David Wilson's survey, thence with a line of same S 8 E 130 poles to a stone corner to same and John Stotts, thence with Stott's line W 27 poles to a stone and mulberry his corner in the original line, thence with his line S 80 W 60 poles to gum and beech, thence N 10 W 180 poles to the beginning. The title to the land to be sold was derived by deed of conveyance to E. F. Roe deceased, from W. A. Jackman and wife, and recorded in deed book No., 9 on page 402 in the Adair County Clerk's office, this May 10, 1915.

Sudden Death.

Mr. J. A. Dulworth, who lives at Camp Knox, informed us, last Thursday, that Mrs. Larkin McGinnis, died suddenly at Ebenezer church, Green county, Tuesday night. Mrs. McGinnis was a daughter of the late Sidney Coffey, and was a first cousin of Mrs. Tolle Walker, L. L. and Wade Eubank, of this place. Mr. McGinnis is a native of Adair county, and is quite prominent in the affairs of Green county. His relatives and friends of Adair county feel for him and extend their profoundest sympathy.

Since writing the above we are informed by another party that Mrs. McGinnis died at her home, and that she was sick several days.

Declaration contest in Lindsey-Wilson Chapel Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. The Lyon medal will be delivered to the winner. Every body is cordially invited.

Prominent Farmer Dead.

Last Saturday afternoon, about 5 o'clock, Mr. R. C. Neal, one of Adair county's most prominent citizens, and a gentleman who had many warm, personal friends, died at his home, near Eunice, this county, a victim of pneumonia. Mr. Neal was well-known in Columbia and the intelligence of his demise cast a gloom over this community. He was about fifty years old, and was a leader in the neighborhood where he resided, and will be greatly missed. He leaves a widow and several children, two of his daughters being in the Lindsey-Wilson when he was taken sick. Every body who knew Mr. Neal are in sympathy with the sorrowing widow and children. May God comfort them in this hour of their deepest grief.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, conducted by Eld. Z. T. Williams, many being present.

Field Days.

Last Friday afternoon was Field Day at High School and Graded School grounds and a large crowd was present to witness the many contests. Many of them were close and exciting, but the decisions were fair. All the contestants being satisfied. Those who lost exhibited the proper spirit by congratulating the winners. It was an afternoon of enjoyment for all present.

Saturday afternoon like exercises were pulled off at the Lindsey-Wilson campus, hundreds of spectators being in attendance. The program was lengthy, the street lights being turned on before it was completed. Those who witnessed the contests were delighted, as there were many exciting feats, and cheering was lively during the whole of the afternoon.

Prizes Awarded.

The following won first places on the Lindsey-Wilson campus Field Day:

Holis Mitchell, Chester Petty, Oliver Popplewell, Guy Stevenson, Dudley Hayes, Robt. Willis, Lucy McFarland, Ruth Hynes, Leona Bryant, Sallie Murphy, Prentice Gibbons, Petty & Hadley. Chester Petty won medal for highest number of points. Oliver Popplewell, second. The Ad Astra won girls Relay race. O. D. S. won boys Relay race.

Baccalaureate Sermon.

Last Sunday forenoon Rev. Chesterfield Turner, who now resides in Louisville, delivered the baccalaureate sermon in the Baptist Church to the graduating class of the Adair County High School. The audience was between five and six hundred, every available plan in the church building being taken.

Rev. Turner was formerly principal of the school, and his address, which contained many wholesome thoughts, impressively delivered, showed that he had lost none of the interest in the school that he so plainly manifested while at the head of it. He is a gentleman of ability and education, his language being choice throughout the discourse.

Dixie Highway Meeting.

Thursday, of this week, the 13th, representative citizens of Bardstown, Springfield, Lebanon, Campbellsville, Columbia, Creelsboro and Albany will meet at Campbellsville for the purpose of putting life into the Central route. It is important that large delegations turn out to the meeting. The Central is the shortest route and the advantage of selecting it, is the matter of cost. Let every man who can attend the meeting be present.

I have secured the services of Chas. L. Cook, of Mexico Mo., an expert saddle horse man and am now prepared to take a few horses to educate to saddle and harness. If you have a horse that needs educating, call and see me.

Centre College.

The ninety-second commencement exercises at Centre College will begin on Sunday June 6th, when the baccalaureate sermon will be preached by the Rev. J. M. Vander Meulen, D. D., pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church at Louisville, Ky.

The commencement address will be made by President Emeritus Jas. K. Patterson, Ph. D., D. D. of the Kentucky State University, on Thursday June 10th. Dr. Patterson is widely known as a vigorous and picturesque speaker and was for over a quarter of a century president of the State University.

The recent rains have revived vegetation throughout Adair county. Many fields of wheat that were looking poorly have become thrifty, and the indications at this time point to an average yield. Grass is also growing nicely.

Last Friday night the large touring car owned by Mr. J. E. Gowdy, Campbellsville, upset on the Springfield pike, near Lebanon. Mr. Gowdy and his son, Dr. Lee Gowdy, and Mrs. Bailey, who is a daughter, were in the car. They met a buggy and the occupant failed to give part of the road. The auto driver undertook to pass, but he turned too far and the car upset. None of the occupants were seriously hurt, but the machine was badly damaged.

An Alarming Accident.

A few days ago Mr. F. E. Mullinix, who lives near the Fair Grounds, came very near being killed. He left the square horseback, en route home. When he reached the Christian church his horse fell, and partly fell on him. Persons who witnessed the accident, hurried to the scene, thinking that the rider was killed. Fortunately, he was only bruised about the legs and body. He is now hobbling about his premises, but it will be some days before he fully recovers. Mr. Mullinix is quite an old man and there is not a doubt but he made a narrow escape.

Next Monday the May term of the Adair circuit court will open. Candidates will occupy the most of the day, as several have announced that they would speak. Neighbor Hatcher, who is a candidate for the State Senate, will be one of the speakers. Mr. Trigg, his opponent, will likely be here. It is also said that Judge Carter and Commonwealth's Attorney Huddleston will also make addresses. A very large crowd is expected to be here.

To Be Married.

Mr. Guy Neil and Miss Mabel Atkins left here this (Tuesday) morning for Louisville where they expected to get married this afternoon. They were accompanied by Miss Amanda Butler, who is a close friend of the couple. It was given out here that Rev. Chesterfield Turner would officiate, his services having been engaged while here last Sunday. It is expected that the wedding party will return home in a day or two.

The intended bride is a daughter of the late E. G. Atkins. Her mother, Mrs. Lou W. Atkins, resides in this city.

Miss Atkins is a young woman of strong mind, is accomplished, and a most pleasing conversationalist, a lady who has many friends.

Mr. Neil is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. H. Neil, and is quite popular with his associates. He is at present the manager of the Columbia Bottling Works, an enterprise that is doing a good business.

The News extends its best wishes, trusting that prosperity and happiness will crown their efforts, and that they may lovingly go hand in hand down to good old age.

Joseph D. Bryan Dead.

A great many Columbians will regret to learn of the death of Joseph D. Bryan, who was a salesman for Wheat & Gilmer in this place, many years ago, while his father, Mr. George Bryan, was cashier for the Bank of Columbia.

The end came at Bentonville, Ark., April the 25th, where the deceased was engaged in the banking business and also holding large interests in other enterprises.

He was born at Jamestown, Ky., December 5, 1852, and was nearly 63 years old when death came. He was a first cousin of Eld. F. J. Barger, of this place, and was a gentleman of spotless character. He was surrounded by his wife and six sons and daughters and seven brothers.

All Bentonville went into mourning the day of the funeral.

Another Advocate of State-wide.

I am not the bond-servant of any political party. I vote for the best men and the best measures. All the time and everywhere I am opposed to the liquor traffic, for it is the greatest foe to human happiness and prosperity that exists. The world's great question to-day is the solution of the liquor problem. We in Kentucky now have the County Unit law which has been shown to be insufficient to solve the problem. It does not touch the vital trouble which is the manufacture of strong drink. Local option was a liquor man's measure originated to save the liquor men's business from destruction. The friends of the whisky business are for the County Unit law and its foes are for State-wide and Nation-wide Prohibition. Mr. H. A. Sommers puts in a pitiful plea for keeping State-wide Prohibition out of the gubernatorial race in Kentucky. His reasons may be summed up in two points. First it would endanger the success of the Democratic party. Second the Governor has no power to exert in the submission of a constitutional amendment. His first reason seems to me to be pure cowardice. He claims to have fought the liquor interests in their efforts to dominate this party and yet he now surrenders body and soul to these interests. If there is one thing above all others that the liquor men desire it is that all political parties keep Prohibition out of their politics. What Mr. Sommers is pleading for is the very thing the whisky men want above all others. Again, is the success of any political party in a State campaign worth more than the protection of our moral material and spiritual interests from their deadliest foe? Are not the lives, character, prosperity and happiness of our men, women and children worth more than any mere political triumph? Should not a party stand for right and for the people's best interests, even though the enemies of humanity oppose them in such a stand? It does not require a man of brains to see that the liquor men are foes to civilization and good government, to say nothing of morality and religion. But again, will the introduction of the State-wide issue defeat the Democratic party or endanger its success. Not necessarily. Of one thing I am sure. If the Democrats should put up a local option or county unit ticket and the Republicans should put up a clean and strong State-wide ticket the rooster would not crow any more for four years in Kentucky. Reverse the tickets and I believe the results will be reversed and the rooster continue to crow. The cause of Prohibition will win in the whole nation ere the next decade closes. The party that espouses it will lead its hosts to victory and have the honor of making the greatest reform of modern times. The party that continues to be dominated by the whisky men will go down to defeat and disgrace as it deserves to do.

As to Mr. Sommers's second reason, I would ask why do the whisky men work so hard for a man favorable to their trade? Why do they not work and vote for H. V. McChesney instead of A. O. Stanley if the governor has no influence for or against Prohibition in his official capacity? Verily, the whisky men know on which side their bread is buttered.

But Mr. Sommers is very strong for the County Unit law. So is Mr. Stanley and so are the whisky men. All know that so long as the temperance movement does not get beyond local option, their business is safe. Every man of ordinary capacity knows that nothing short of State-wide and nation wide Prohibition of the manufacture, sale, exportation, importation and transportation of alcoholics, is a solution of the problem. You might as well talk of drying up the Mississippi at Baton Rouge while the sources above continue to flow as to stop the drink curse with local option which allows the streams of the still to flow. Stop the manufacture of alcoholic poison and the stream will run dry. Cut down the trees and the buckeyes will cease to poison the cows.

Prohibition has made amazing progress within the last year. Russia with her one hundred and seventy millions of people is absolutely dry. France has discarded all strong spirituous liquors, England is on the verge of absolute Prohibition, and by the time the present war is over I believe Germany and Austria will go dry. Since September 1st 9 of our states have moved into the dry column and five more will vote on the question soon. A majority of the members of Congress voted for submission of Nation wide Prohibition last winter. Verily, the world moves. Let all good people rally together for the right and victory will be won in the near future.

Editor News:—

I wish to put a letter in your paper, as my many friends in old Adair will be glad to hear from me. The farmers are getting along fine with their crops. They are planting corn now. Wheat is looking fine. They have been offered $1.20 for new wheat. This is a fine country for farming. The police killed a negro one day last week. He had robbed a store in Petersburg and was trying to get away. Well, there are lots of Kentucky boys here. Some of them say that they would stay if it wasn't for working so hard. I don't see why any one would not like to work here. This is such a fine country. Nobody is behind. They give you plenty of time to do your work. They give you from 15 to 18 hours a day. There was a man by the name of Charlie Sinclair sold out in Kentucky and came here to live but did not like and went back. The other boys are doing fine. Will write more next time.

Sensible Women Know Foundation of Health

As health talks to women become more general, both in the newspapers and on the platform, the mass of women are beginning to realize what the more cultivated have always known, that good health cannot be found in a powder box. The externals of health may be obtained in that way, but the basis of health lies deeper, and yet is just as easily obtained.

The most important thing that a woman can do for herself, and about which she is often most neglectful, is to watch the condition of her stomach and bowels. The weary eyes, the bad breath, the frequent headaches, the pimples, the general air of lassitude is nine times out of ten the result of constipation or indigestion, or both. Many simple remedies can be obtained, but the best in the estimation of most women is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, pleasant to the taste and exactly suited to her needs. It is far superior to salts, cathartic pills, waters, etc., which are entirely too violent. Women should see to it that they have at least one movement of the bowels each day, and when showing any tendency to constipation should take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed. A brief use of it will so train the stomach and bowel muscles that all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. These opinions are voiced by thousands of women, after personal experience, among them Miss V. L. Moore, 32 Claiborne St., Nashville, Tenn., and Florence Cook, Lucas, Ky.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

Obituary.

Frank Sinclair was born Oct. 16, 1866, departed this life Jan., 3, 1915, aged 48 years, 2 months and 18 days old. He was the oldest son of Preston and Elizabeth Sinclair, who both died when he was just entering into young manhood. He had three sisters and three brothers to be cared for. Frank realized his great responsibility and put himself in a father's place and he filled it well. No father was more thoughtful of his children than he was of his sisters and brothers. He never became too tired or busy to see after their needs. Years ago he told a friend of his that he would work his fingers off before his sisters should suffer for the necessities of life. Those who knew him and know what he did for his can best see that he was firm in this statement. Oh, what a noble brother he was. So kind and and patient through his many trials. He was left without means, but being full of energy and will power, he managed to accumulate enough to go into mercantile business. He loved this business and made it his occupation through life, and through his enthusiasm and honesty, he made a success. He worked hard, stuck close to business, bought what he could pay for, dealt fair and square with all people, was kind and accommodating. A more charitable man I doubt ever lived. He turned none away empty handed who called on him in times of need.

He was converted and united with the Methodist church, in 1892, under the ministry of Bro. S. L. C. Coward. He lived a true and faithful member, loyal to its best interest. He was a member of the board of stewards for a number of years and was always faithful to his duty as an officer. He loved the church and was ever ready to help in a substantial way. He loved the Bible. It was his guide and comfort, during his illness he would ask us to read the Bible to him daily and oftentimes he became very happy. It seemed that just as he had gotten where he could live comfortable, without working so hard, his physical strength gave way. It had been overtaxed and death was fast approaching before he realized it, but he never complained. He was the most patient sufferer I ever knew. He gave himself over into the hands of God and it was his will to take him unto himself. Frank's good influence will live here, but he has entered a new life with new joys and greater possibilities.

He was married to Miss Lula Conover in September 1900. To this union were born four children. Ray, the eldest, preceded him to his heavenly home, Nov. 23, 1908. Marvin, Mary Elizabeth and William Preston survive him. A kind and faithful husband, a loving father, a devoted brother has left us, but we know where to find him. He will be waiting for us on the other shore. Frank fought life's battles bravely, run his course well, kept the faith and is now wearing a crown of righteousness. He leaves behind him that richest heritage, the memory of a good life.

Dearest brother we miss thee so much
Since thou hast gone from us.
But we know it was God's will,
He had a place for thee to fill.
We loved thee but God loved thee best
So he took thee to eternal rest.

One of these days we will meet thee
On that eternal shore,
Then how sweet to greet thee
In that heavenly home of your,
Where our tears will all be wiped away
And we can with thee ever stay.

British Navy's Lucky Day.

It is said that the British navy has a lucky day and that it is Friday.

It was on Friday, July 29, 1588 that the Spanish Armada was destroyed. True, it was also a Friday, Nov. 29, 1652, when Von Tromp sailed the channel with a broom at his mast-head to indicate that he had swept the English from the seas; but luck has a habit of turning, and, according to the most reliable chronologies, Friday, June 13, 1656, was the decisive day in the battle off the North Foreland, when six of Van Tromp's ships were taken and 11 were sunk.

It was on Friday, April 20, 1657, that Blake won his greatest victory, in the harbor of Santa Cruz; on Friday, July 30, 1779 that the American fleet was totally destroyed off the shores of New England; on Friday, April 12, 1782, that Rodney defeated the French admiral prisoner; and on Friday, Sept. 13, of the same year, that the British totally defeated the fleets of France and Spain in the Bay of Gibraltar.

It was also on Friday, July 16, 1779, that the great siege of Gibraltar began, to end in the total overthrow of the hostile armaments. Trafalgar, indeed, was fought on a Monday, but at least it was on the previous Friday that the French admiral made the fatal decision to come out and give battle. Nelson would have been the last to dispute the "luckiness" of Friday, for he was born on that day, created a viscount on that day, and it was on Friday, May 20, 1803, that he assumed chief command in the Mediterranean.

Any man who has watched his wife dolling up when she is getting ready to go out will agree with the sage who remarked that a woman's work is never done.

The corner stone of the new government building at Georgetown was laid Saturday with imposing ceremonies.

T. Q. Wallace and Frank Chaney convicted at Winchester for murder in Estill county, were sentenced to the penitentiary.

Gov. Hatfield, of West Virginia, is in favor of Justice Hughes of the Supreme Court, for the Republican nomination for President.

Miss Caroline Ruseberry, of Paris, was injured in an automobile accident near Versailles and it is feared that she cannot recover.

One hundred speakers under the direction of the State Illiteracy Commission will open in July a three months speaking campaign.

Mayor Cassidy, of Lexington, announced that $55,000 worth of delinquent tax bills are missing from the delinquent tax collector's office.

Owensboro was visited by a severe storm last week which was almost a cyclone. A large warehouse was blown down and much damage done to other property.

This is the "Thornhill" Wagon — the Wagon that Must Make Good

The best known materials—the labor of master workmen—the aid of the most ingenious modern machinery have been employed to make the Thornhill wagon.

The wheels are made with excessive care. For the spokes the manufacturers use the finest hickory—machine driven to insure the right dish. The hubs are of oak, thoroughly seasoned and banded with double refined sable iron.

The bolsters are of the best white oak. They have an iron plate at top and bottom, riveted through and through—multiplying their strength.

The "Thornhill" has a malleable front hound plate that is braced to the hounds at all points. This is an exclusive "Thornhill" feature. It prevents the gears from ever getting out of line and causing hard pulling.

"Thornhill" wagons are equipped with long sleeve malleable—non-breakable—skeins that insure light running, and outlast any other skein. Each skein is fitted to its axle with a Defiance machine—infallibly accurate. This machine insures the right pitch and tuck, makes light draft a certainty.

The axles are of toughest nickory—the steel axles of the best refined steel.

The sides of "Thornhill" beds are made of poplar. It costs the makers more—but it holds paint better and gives better service.

Come in and see this wagon—sold under a binding guarantee.

Sold By WOODSON LEWIS
GREENSBURG, KENTUCKY.

The Thornhill Wagon is not the lowest priced—but the best, and in the end the cheapest.

AFTER THE BALL IS OVER.

The contest for the first road improvement, under State Aid in this county, closed last Saturday, and only two bids were submitted, the Columbia and Liberty road and the Columbia and Jamestown road, the former winning. When this proposition was submitted in February, five roads entered the contest. The Jamestown road won and the people interested in the road made bond for over $6,000, but after it was learned that the State was unable to pay in its full part this year the court met and the bondsmen asked to be released. The court acted generously, guaranteed the release and re-submitted the original proposition with the additional requirement that the right of way be contributed or guaranteed under bond. Under this proposition only the Jamestown and Liberty roads entered the contest and the latter won by presenting deeds for the right of way and a guarantee of $3,400 payable July 1st, 1915.

The effort made on both roads was earnest, honest and energetic, and no mutterings are heard, but evidence of good will and substantial aid is coming from some of the most active workers on the Jamestown road. We congratulate the loyalty, pluck and determination of the active workers on the Columbia and Liberty road, for they put up a clean fight and a game finish. The fact is they never sulk, and never surrender until the battle is over, their motto being:

"If at first you don't succeed, Try, try again
All the other folks can do
Why in patience may not you?
Only Keep this rule in view,
It will always pull you through."

Last, but not least, we congratulate the court in its efforts and determination to get out of the old ruts, to accept from the State road law every advantage offered to build good roads, and its open, honest, fair efforts to extend a square deal to all. Just how much road can be built with the money available we do not know, but the fact the movement starts ought to be inspiring to all. In the future, as in the past, the people directly interested in the improvement of the Liberty road, must stand united and determined to build the road to the county line and open up another outlet for this county, not only to the good road section of the State, but to the Southern Road. Keeping everlastingly at it brings success." The ball has started and we must keep it rolling—on to Liberty.

THE SINKING LUSITANIA.

The latest estimate of the loss of lives by the torpedoing of the Lusitania by a German submarine is 1,198. Among the dead are many women and children. The Lusitania had on board 1,251 passengers and 650 crew. Among well-known Americans whose bodies have not been recovered are Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Charles Klein, the playwright, Justin Forman and Elbert H. Hubbard and wife. The body of Charles Frohman, the theatrical manager, has been recovered. It is estimated there were 190 Americans on the Lusitania. Fewer than seventy Americans were saved.

In Washington the situation in view of the loss of American lives, is considered very grave. Secretary Bryan has cabled Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to ask the German government for its report of the disaster. The first formal comment from the White House was to the effect that the President is very earnestly but very calmly, considering the right course to pursue, knowing that the country wished him to act with deliberation as well as firmness."

FORMER "ICE KING" TALKS

John Rohrman Praises Remarkable Work of Medicine Tanlac

Louisville, May 12.—Almost everybody in Louisville is personally acquainted with or have heard of John Rohrman. The "Ice King" of Louisville, as he was formerly called by those who have known and respected him for his honesty and integrity for a score or more years, has been a sufferer from stomach complaints and a general debilitated condition for a considerable length of time.

Like lots of other folks, Mr. Rohrman was a little skeptical regarding the merits of the new preparation, Tanlac, as he had tried numerous medicines in the past without obtaining the right results. However, the publication of testimonials from Louisville people he knew who had been actually benefitted by Tanlac, convinced him that a test of the preparation was worth the attempt.

Mr. Rohrman had suffered much annoyance from indigestion, especially. He got Tanlac and began using it. A few afternoons ago he was prepared to make this statement in the presence of witnesses:

"Less than two weeks ago I obtained this Tanlac. The medicine was just what I needed. It went straight to the spot. I strengthened right up. My appetite is improved, as well as my sleep. If I had paid a thousand dollars for the medicine, it would have been worth that to me. The anticipation of taking the next dose of Tanlac is a real pleasure."

Tanlac, the remarkable medicine referred to by Mr. Rohrman, is now distributed in Louisville by the personal direction of L. T. Cooper and in Columbia by Page & Taylor where the famous medicine can now be bought.

Hon. A. O. Stanley, who is not a stranger to the people of Adair county, will speak at the court-house in Columbia, Saturday afternoon, May 29, at 1 o'clock. He is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, and he should be given a large audience. As an orator, he has but few equals.

A committee of the Christian Church, Campbellsville, was in Somerset last week, inspecting the Christian church building of that city. A new $20,000 building is to be erected at Campbellsville, and the Committee was out looking for a model. It is said that the Somerset edifice is one of the handsomest in the State, and that the Committee was delighted with it, and that the one to be erected at Campbellsville will be after the same pattern.

Next Monday a great many people will be in Columbia at the opening of circuit court. We trust that all who know themselves indebted to this office will call and make payment.

Sam Ike Garnett, an old colored man of this county, died last Wednesday night. His exact age could not be learned, but he was close to ninety years old. Before freedom, he belonged to Mr. Anthony Garnett, father of the late Judge Jas. Garnett, and after the war of the rebellion Judge Garnett gave him a home and a small tract of land his life time, and otherwise provided for him. In fact, every member of Judge Garnett's family took an interest in "Uncle" Ike, as he was familiarly called.

Making Him Whole.

"It takes the glorious old West to do business," said the man with the aligator grip as he boarded the train at St. Paul. "We of the East are not in it a little bit."

"Anything to relate?" queried one of the passengers as he woke up.

"Just a few words. I traveled from New York to Chicago with a starved-looking girl. At Buffalo I was gone on her. At Detroit we were engaged. As we reached Chicago she had set the date. I returned home, wrote her 320 love letters, and came out here to get married."

"And what?"

"She decided that she would marry another. She estimated the value of my time at $500, the worth of my letters at $300 and my broken heart at $200, and drew me a check for $1,000, and here it is. Gave her a receipt in full to date, kissed her good-by, and there you are and here I am. There's but one way to do business, and the West knows all about it. Yes, a check for a thousand, and how many of you gentlemen will smoke a Henry Clay at my expense?"

Glass Telephone Poles.

A manufacturing plant in Europe is engaged in making glass poles for telegraph and telephone wires. In order to give them solidity and strength there is a thick framework of woven wire in the glass. These poles are taking the place of the wooden ones in many parts of the world.

It may be that in time all telegraph and telephone poles will be made of glass, because there are so many advantages to them. In the first place, they will last practically all the time, except in cases of unusual accident, where they may be broken, as in railroad recks. They will last even longer than iron or steel, as weather has practically no effect upon them, nor can insects get into them and destroy them.

And in these days when wood is becoming more valuable, it will be quite a saving of the precious wood to make such things of glass.

King's Golden Fleet.

By order of the English admiralty perfect models are made in paraffin-wax of every new battleship, and these models are tested in a tank specially erected for the purpose.

The models are from 12 feet to 24 feet long, and the tank is 400 feet long and 20 feet wide.

The models are made of wax because it is a material which does not absorb water or change its weight, and so that alterations can be easily made.

Fleets, not of wax, but of silver and gold, are kept by the King and also by the Kaiser.

The Kaiser's collection consists of model vessels made of solid silver, illustrating the development of sailing ships from the far away days of the Vikings down to our own time.

King George has a miniature fleet in gold and silver, which shows the progress of the English navy since the days of William, the Conqueror, every model being absolutely perfect to the smallest detail.

Many of these tiny vessels date from the Fourteenth to the Seventeenth century, when it was the custom of maritime towns to present them to royalists who honored them with a visit.

"One of the boys put me on to a little poker game," said the dry goods drummer, "and I went around to see what it was like. There was about 30 respectable looking people in the room, and one of them was trying to teach me the value of the cards when the police broke in and made a clean sweep of everybody. Next morning when arraigned at the police court I wanted a lawyer, and there was a general laugh in the court when his honor replied with a smile:

"I don't know where you'll get one. There are several in town, but all are in the pen with you!"

"It was so," continued the drummer "and things might have gone hard with us had it not been for the fact that the judge was there, too, but had just stepped out as the raid was made. Nothing was said about it, of course, but he let us off with a fine of $2 each and a lot of fatherly advice."

You Need a Tonic

There are times in every woman's life when she needs a tonic to help her over the hard places. When that time comes to you, you know what tonic to take—Cardui, the woman's tonic. Cardui is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently, yet surely, on the weakened womanly organs, and helps build them back to strength and health. It has benefited thousands and thousands of weak, ailing women in its past half century of wonderful success, and it will do the same for you.

You can't make a mistake in taking

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

Miss Amelia Wilson, R. F. D. No. 4, Alma, Ark., says: "I think Cardui is the greatest medicine on earth, for women. Before I began to take Cardui, I was so weak and nervous, and had such awful dizzy spells and a poor appetite. Now I feel as well and as strong as I ever did, and can eat most anything." Begin taking Cardui today. Sold by all dealers.

Sunday, May 2d, the friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Potts and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brown met at the Potts home and gave them a happy surprise by unloading on the dining table the contents of their many nicely filled baskets, containing the choicest of food prepared by the best women of the neighborhood. Mrs. Potts' birthday being on May 1st, and Mr. Brown on the 3d, it was decided to divide the time and give them the dinner on Sunday, May 2d.

There were 78 men, women and children who took dinner with them, and all seemed to enjoy themselves. After dinner was over, we had some very nice music on violin and guitar, given by Mr. Frank Foley and daughter, Bonnie. This was also enjoyed. After the music every body departed, feeling that they had spent one of the most enjoyable days of their lives.

It is the sincerest wish of all that Mr. Brown and Mrs. Potts may live to enjoy many more happy birthdays.

Mr. Brown and Mrs. Potts return thanks.

How Mrs. Harrod Got Rid Of Her Stomach Trouble.

"I suffered with stomach trouble for years and tried everything I heard of, but the only relief I got was temporary until last spring I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised, and procured a bottle of them at our drug store. I got immediate relief from that dreadful heaviness after eating and from pain in the stomach," writes Mrs. Linda Harrod, Fort Wayne, Ind. Sold by Paull Drug Co. Ad.

Before and After.

What is said of men before they die is frequently quite different from what is said after they are dead. This fact was never better illustrated than in the case of Nelson W. Aldrich, ex-senator from Rhode Island, whose death was recently recorded. In his case two clippings from the same paper, the one published seven years ago, the other published the day following his death, well illustrate comment "before and after." The clippings follow:

"A spokesman of Standard Oil, an agent of trusts, an advocate of special interests, Senator Aldrich has never concerned himself with the welfare of the common people but his every act in the legislature, in the national House and Senate, ignored them and their interests."

The death of Senator Aldrich deprives the country of one of its foremost constructive statesmen. Identified with making most of the great laws of the present generation, he has stamped his name indelibly upon measures which have been of the greatest good to the greatest number."

Of Course the paper quoted may urge that its former utterance was intended merely for political purposes, and should not be contrasted with its correct estimate of the man following his death. Yet, if this plea could be justified by political necessity, a correct estimate of the man would be superfluous. The thing to do in journalism is never to allow politics to dictate

Gradyville.

We have had fine rains for the past week.

E. G. Wethington, of Clementsville, was in our midst a day or so of last week.

J. F. Pendleton, of Greensburg, was here the first of the week, looking after stock.

Robert O. Keltner, wife and daughter were visiting in the Cool Springs community one day last week.

Messrs. Rodgers, Rose & Co., bought a nice bunch of hogs last week from Albin Kemp, at 6½ cents per lb.

G. E. Nell is on the market for a lot of nice fat hogs at the market price.

Sacramental services at Union on the 3rd Sunday in May. Everybody invited to attend and especially the members of Union church.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Willis spent several days in the East Fork community last week, by the bedside of their sick relatives.

Uncle Robert O. Keltner was on the sick list several days of last week.

We understand from some of our farmers that the recent rains have brought out their tobacco plants to a great extent and there will be something like one half of a crop transplanted. The wheat and oat crops are looking a great deal better at this time than it did ten days ago.

Sam Mitchell, our sheriff of Columbia, spent several days in this section last week preparing for circuit court. He says everything is about ready.

Mrs. C. M. Hindman, one of our most entergetic ladies, has sold over $50 worth of eggs since Christmas, besides what they have consumed at home. She has quite a lot of young chickens also.

Gilford Hamilton, of Nell, was in our midst one day last week and while in conversation with him in regard to produce, he informed us that his wife had sold in the last thirty days, over $20 worth of eggs. We can at once see that the egg business is quite a source of revenue—a great deal better than our last years crop of tobacco.

Our farmers in this section have about all sold their last year's production of tobacco. There were several loads left this last week for the Greensburg market. We understand that the market is good. Better than the Louisville market.

G. M. Miller, of Tompkinsville, a candidate for Circuit Judge, called in to see his friends here one day last week, while on his return from Liberty. Mr. Miller is looking fine and seems to be in the very best of health.

Quite a number of our people will attend the closing exercises of the schools at Columbia this week.

A dispatch from Washington says that United States is on a brink of a break with Germany, and that it may mean war.

DEVELOPMENTS IN WAR SITUATION.

The battle in Western Galicia, launched a few days ago with an Austro-German attack from the Cracow region, has developed into one of the greatest encounters of the war. Petrograd dispatches admit that the situation is a serious one, although it is asserted there that the advance has been checked. At Vienna and Berlin, however, it is claimed the Russians have begun a general retreat, that their whole position in the Carpathians is precarious and that the entire eastern campaign may turn on the events of the next few days.

Vienna advices say a desperate battle continued all day and that the Austrians and Germans took one position after another from the Russians.

The German invasion of the Baltic provinces of Russia, which is regarded lightly in Petrograd, is said in Berlin to be an important movement, under the personal direction of Field Marshal von Hindenburg. His aim is believed to be the capture of Libau and Riga, which would enable him to harass Russian communications with Petrograd.

In Belgium further gains have been made by the Germans. The official French statement concedes that the Germans won positions on the disputed Hill 60, near Ypres, and that the British were able to retake only part of them. Sharp fighting is in progress elsewhere along the western front, but apparently with no decided changes.

Two British vessels—a schooner and a trawler—were sunk by shells fired by a submarine. The crews were permitted to leave their ships and escape.

Reports of consistent progress on the part of the allied forces at the Dardanelles were contradicted in an official statement from the Turkish War Office. It was said the troops which landed on Gallipoli peninsula were in a precarious position, being encircled by Turkish forces and unable to advance. The statement was made that only two points on the peninsula—Seddul Bahr and Av Burnu—were held by the Allies.

Dispatches from French and British sources said further successes had been won by the Allies. An attack by Turks on the encampment at Krithia resulted disastrously for them, according to these advices, the Turks having left 1,500 dead behind them after their repulse. A British correspondent asserted that the tip of the peninsula and the entire Western side were under control of the Allies.

Rome, Vienna and Berlin advices indicated that a crisis had come in the negotiations between Italy and Austria. In Rome, where it had been felt of late that war was inevitable, there has been a sudden revival of hope of a peaceful settlement, owing to the fact that Austria is said to have realized the necessity of making substantial territorial concessions. Vienna regarded as significant a visit of the Italian Ambassador to the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, although the outcome was not disclosed. Berlin newspapers said Italy's participation in the war must be regarded as not unlikely.

Claims were made in Petrograd that the victory of the Russian army of the Caucasus over the Turks, announced yesterday, was an important and decisive one. A force of 30,000 Turks which attacked the Russians in the Dilman-Khori region was said to have been repulsed with heavy losses, and compelled to retire in disorder.

Still another neutral steamer has been sunk in the North Sea, although whether by a mine or torpedo has not been established. The Danish vessel Cathay, from Denmark for China, was blown up, but her passengers and crew, numbering forty-three, escaped.

Ozark.

We had a good rain Sunday night and another Monday night. Most every body are done planting corn. Wheat does not look very promising.

Uncle Green McKinley, who is 90 years old, visited his son and other relatives here last week. He is real active, able to walk from house to house, he has a good memory and can tell many interesting things of long ago.

Mrs. T. J. Bryant remains quite feeble, but is tenderly nursed by her husband and devoted children. Her every wish if made known is gratified.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Roy, were guests at the home of Kint Bryant last Sunday week.

Mr. and Mrs. David Bryant, Craycraft, visited at T. J. Bryant's recently.

Miss Maud Bryant is spending a few weeks with her aunt Mrs. M. L. Mitchell.

Gaither Grider and wife, of Owensby, Russell county, visited Mr. Barger and wife last Saturday. They spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. M. O. Stevenson and family.

W. E. Eubank has opened a black-smith shop at the Joe Kearns' place. He is getting plenty of work.

Mr. Joe Kearns and family visited relatives here last Saturday and Sunday.

Misses Myrt and Luella Combest were shopping at Russel Springs a few days ago.

Dr. Flowers removed a cancerous growth from Mrs. Laura Simmons' face. She is getting along nicely.

Mrs. James Gooden, who has been quite sick is better.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of brother Hadley, he writes such interesting letters. Wish he could be at Mr. Solomon McKinley's to-day at a "big" log rolling and "big dinner" like those he tells us about in Russell county.

The Review of Reviews for May is of special interest. The articles on the progress of the war are accurately written. Hon. Albert J. Beveridge, who visited the scenes last winter, has an article, giving full details of what he witnessed in the war zone. Other noted men also write entertaining of war events. There are many other articles, on other subjects, well worth reading. Write for it, 30 Irving Place, New York, N. Y.

Mrs. Allen Walker entertained the following couples last Tuesday evening: Mr. John W. Flowers and Miss Pearl Nave; Mr. Fred Hill and Miss Helen Atkinson; Mr. H. T. Baker and Miss Sue King; Mr. Doc Walker and Miss Lola Cliff; Mr. Ed Diddle and Miss Gertrude Kinnaird; Mr. Nat Walker and Miss Elizabeth Clark. After delightful refreshments, music and games followed.
